Available Slots for Review of Applications for Candidacy

As endorsed by CAPTE’s Central Panel at the October 2019 meeting, an additional pilot candidacy review cycle (summer meeting with up to 6 AFCs reviewed) as well as increases (up to 8 AFCs reviewed) at spring/fall meetings will be in effect beginning March 2020 through December 2022. In 2023, CAPTE will return to making Candidate for Accreditation decisions two times per year (spring/fall) and will accept and review a maximum of six (6) Applications for Candidacy during a given cycle.

The acceptance of Applications for Candidacy will be based on the receipt date of the Developing Program Information Form. Developing Program Information Forms indicating the program’s intent to submit in a cycle that has already met the cap will be rescheduled to the next available review cycle and planned student admission must be delayed accordingly. [See the Rules of Practice and Procedure, Part 7, for a detailed description of Candidacy Cycles and timelines.]

The remaining slots for the upcoming Candidacy Cycles are indicated in the table below.
